WILL be published in Calcutta about the THE INDIAN ECONOMIST AND STATISTICAL REPORTER

A MONTHLY JOURNAL DEVOTED TO ROONOMIC AND STATISTICAL INQUIRIES CONCERNING INDIA.

ROBERT KNIGHT (Times of India), FELLOW OF THE STATISTICAL SOCIETY,

Intending Subscribers will be good enough send their names direct to Mr. KNIGHT.

AR! KNIGHTS retirement from the VI Daily Press of India will set him free on the lat July next to establish a journal devoted exclusively to those economic and statistical inquiries which have been pursued by him for many years past in the columns of the Times of India. The Indian Economist will at the outset be published on the lattof every month, and will be devoted almost exclusively to the discussion of economic questions concerning India. The Statistical Reporter, which will appear as a supplement to each number, with separate paging and index, will gather together such statistics as exist or are to be got concerning the agriculture and resources of the provinces, and the commerce population; revenues, debt, and public works of the empire, and will present them in the simplest and most useful form the Editor can devise. It is hoped that the publication of this ournal will give a new impetus to statis ical inquifies in liidia, and be the mean of spreading exact information upon buestions on which Indian publicists and states men are now constantly at fault from the want of it. The most manifest defect probably in our administrative system is the fact that there is not a district in the empire the exact position and resources of which are known to us! The very first condition of successful administration is thus wanting. In Orissa the other day, a narrow export of 30,000 Tons of rice from a province contain ing 3,000,000 of people growing nothing but rice, was held to be conclusive proof that large food! reserves existed in the province. while a very brief statistical inquiry would have shown that so narrow an export in face of the high prices that had been ruling for years, proved that the province was normally treading on the verge of famine. In all money you product about There are no satisfactory statistics a bresent in India upon any subject but it trade, while such as do exist are buried in the recesses of the Secretariate, or in the Appendices to Parliamentary Returns, our of reach of the public. Tong familiarity with the kind of information wanted, the sources from which it is to be obtained. aild the shape in which it requires to be presented! furnishes the Editor, as he himself believes, with special qualifications for the task he has undertaken. He proposes to meet a want which he has felt keen! himself, and believes that his new journa will be found to be indispensable by every merchant, journalist, and civilian in th country with a very few months of its

In the Times of India he has dealt for many years imperfectly with the great questions to which the Indian Economist will now be specially devoted. Imperial and local taxation; the Indian debt, our rency reforms, weights and ineasures, the land settlements of the country, our financial relations with England, railway extension and public works, banking, commerce, and exchange, and the course of the Legislature and of the Executive Governments thereon will form the leading subjects of liscussion in the new Journal. The Edi tor trusts he may rely upon the co-operation of the Services to make his new journal what he proposes it should become. He does not intend it to be a mere newspaper. but an authority upon questions effecting the material well-being of the country; and he will gladly receive suggestions for the improvement of his plant, and offers of assistance in the execution of them from any part of India. He will be glad also to know early the number of subscribers to the journal upon which he may count at the outest. The journal will probabl pecome a weekly paper eventually.

> From the "Straits Times," July 27, 1868.) Some time ago we had occasion to remark upon the progress that Literature as represented by the Press had made and was making in the East, and our attention has again been called to the subject by the receipt of a Hongkong publication which deserves some notice and which we have much pleasure in introducing to the knowledge of our readers. We allude to Notes and Queries on thing and Japan, published monthly by Mr Saint, the proprietor of the China Mail newspaper. This publication is well printed on good paper, and in size and shape is very like its well-known namesake or prototype at home, and is equally a mine containing very curious and useful information regarding the language, literature, history, manners and customs of the Chinese and in a less degree of the Japanese. It says a good deal for the extent and stability of the footing of Europeans in China, that such a publication as this should be established and conducted with apparently successful vigour. The publication is altogether a very interesting one, and wishing it every success, we commend it to the attention and support of our readers.

(From the "Friend of India," June 4, 1868.) We acknowledge with thanks the receipt of the numbers for the current year of "Notes and Queries," a most deserving Anglo-Chinese monthly, edited by Mr N. B. Dennys, whose "Treaty Ports of China and Japan" are so well known. From the names attached to the "Notes" we can see that the contributors include some of the best Chinese acholars in the East. Its interest is not confined to China, and it will be of valuable assistance to all scholars, who Per, containing Officially Revised Reports | placed, and who is invested with power to | have directed their attention towards the of Cases heard at the Supreme and Consular suspend or dismiss, subject to an appeal to subject of Buddhism and its literature, and ceeding 8 oz; and 20 cents for every Courts, Police Cases, and Proceedings in the Consul concerned; when the Pilot is a generally to all who are interested in ori-Foreigner, the appeal to be lodged within ental antiquities. Handbook of reference for the determination of Chinese Dates, during the period from 1860 to 1869; with comparative Tables of Annual and Mensual Designations, &c., &c. Compiled by WILLIAM FREDE-RICK MAYERS, H.M.C.S.

Author's Preface. Most persons whose avocations or studies are connected even remotely with Chinese subjects are wont to confess the need of convenient manual of reference for the pur pose of determining dates according either the European or the Chinese metho of computation; and a system of comparison for the names attributed to years months, and other periods is also frequent ly a desideratum with translators and readers of Chinese literature. The com piler of the following tables has though accordingly, that their publication in convenient form may prove useful, although much yet remains to be done for the elaboration of comparative calendars, etc. tha should leave nothing to be desired. With the exception of the Cyclical Table of Years, and the Table of Solar Torms, both of which were originally compiled by Dr. Morrison, and afterwards republished with improvements in Williams' Commercia Guide, from which (with some alteration) they are now copied, the whole of the mat ter assembled in the following pages is for the first time made accessible to general

"THEY WON'T SEE HIM." An interesting subject of speculation is afforded by the item of news regarding Prince Alfred's reception at Peking which we published last night. There would appear to be no doubt of its authenticity, and it is withal so extremely probable that we can readily accept it as true. The refusal of "Prince Kung" to receive His Royal Highness seems at first sight unimportant, until it be recollected how great is the objection enter_ tained by the Chinese to permitting a the ship a short time, they were picked up "barbarian" to see the Emperor. Any official interview with Prince Kung on the part of H. R. H. the Duke of Edinburgh could only have for its object the arrangement of an interview with the young Emperor himself. To effectually prevent any such appeal, Prince Kung gives a notice which he hopes will have struction and outrage to foreigners were rampant in China itself. And yet the Government (!) whose so-called representatives have been received in a manner befitting the positions of envoys rather than those of inferior officials, or suddenly-promoted coolies, has the insolence to refuse not only the privileges invariably yielded to Ministers and Ambassadors, but the courtesy extended throughout the world to a Royal visitor!

Let us constrast the conduct of the Japanese upon the same matter. Not only will the Mikado receive his royal visitor in person with the attentions due to his rank, but he has at great expense actually sent down to Hongkong for two carriages and aix horses (which have just left in charge of the proprietor of a well known horse-breaking and carriage establishment) in order to be able to accord him a more comfortable mode of progress than that in vogue amongst the Japanese. Yet the wretched little boy of sixteen with the harem of fifty odd wives and concubines, who is supposed to occupy the throne once filled by such as Kien-lung and Kang-hi, is, forsooth, too sacred to be viewed by the "barbarian eyes." of a son of the Queen of Great Britain and Empress of India! Whether we ton Street. Very Rev. T. Raimondi, P. P. shall continue to aid her in that commendable course remains to be seen. But possibly the latest slap in the face may cause a little reflection as to the wisdom we have hitherto exhibited.

> WE are able to authoritatively confirm the rumour in circulation that Sir R. Alcock has fully approved the conduct of Mr Gibson in the Formosa affair, including the capture of Amping. We must however confess that we are considerably puzzled to account for the fact of the British Minister acting apparently in a manner so diametrically opposed to the published instructions of the Foreign Office. It is possible that a change has come over home policy and that subsequent despatches written in the light of fuller information at home have authorized Sir Rutherford Alcock to substitute blessing for cursing and praise for reproof? There is but one other theory tenable—that the Minister is so firmly convinced of the injustice done to Mr Gibson that he has elected to mark his personal approval in spite of the Foreign Office. Such a course would be honorable in the extreme f not very judicious. His former despatches certainly shewed that he is by no means personally indifferent to the position of his countrymen in China, and he has risen immensely in popular estimation in consequence. Still we are at a loss to account for this new development of the question.

LOCAL. WE are requested to state that, in consequence of the departure of the American Calcutta and English Mails, the Criminal Sessions will be adjourned until Friday morning, the 23rd instant, at 10 o'clock. THE junk referred to in the Venus' shipping report arrived in Harbor this afternoon, and we learn that the North-German barque Sophie & Helene (Capt. Petschke), which left this port on the 15th for Yokobama, is a total wreck on the Tay-chingcham Rook, near Pinghoi. It appears that she struck at about 2 o'clock on the morning of the 16th (yesterday), and her officers and crew had to take to their boats shortly afterwards. THE New York Times of June 3, says that if English politicians and newspapers discussed the relations between England and the United States in the temper of Mr Forster's speech, there would be less illthe effect of keeping His Royal Highness feeling between the people and fewer difficulties menacing the peace of the two countries. The Times concludes that, ing the discussion of this much-dreaded although Mr Forster is not a Cabinet Mivister, he is an influential parliamentary leader, and a member of the dominant party. CLERGYMEN AND PARLIAMENT.

When we set about severing the bonds which have hitherto connected Church and State, it is no wonder that we come upon some unexpects t results. The process is like cutting down a tree in a tropical forest which is joined by so many parasitical creepers to its neighbours that the fall of the main mass involves the destruction. gymen, as it is known, are at present in the case of Horne Tooke. According to: Mr Gladstone and the law officers of the to remove this restriction in the case of the clergy of the disestablished Church of Ireland. Roman Catholic priests will still be excluded by special provision; but the clergy of all other sects are at present admissible, and, indeed, have not unfrequently held seats in the House of Commons. The privilege will henceforth be extended to the Irish clergy, who, it is to be hoped, will consider it as some infinitesimar set off against the lowering of their position in other respects. Mr Gladstone remarked that the law would thus be in an anomalous state, and would require some alteration, though he was not prepared to determine its nature. Meanwhile Mr. Thorold Rogers has written to a contemporary, suggesting another conclusion. Hitherto, he says, there has been only one Church of England and Ireland. If one part of it is disestablished, and the clergy the disestablished fraction and claim the privilege of standing for seats in the House of Commons. The simple remedy, he says, for the difficulties which may arise would be to pass an Act declaring that all naturalborn subjects of her Majesty are free to sit in Parliament if any constituency chooses Sensations, some of them of a decidedly to elect them. TREASONABLE LANGUAGE.

There was a time when indiscreet words. hardly capable of misconstruction, were held to amount to high treason. Two instances are recorded of persons executed for treasonable words in the reign of Edward IV.; the one, a citizen named Walker, for saying to his son, "Tom, if thou behavest well, I will make thee heir to the Crownmeaning the Crown Tavera in Cheapside, of which he was landlord and proprietor; the other a gentleman (according to Lord Campbell, Sir Robert Burdett, ancestor of Sir Francis), for saving, on hearing that the King had entered his park and killed a favourite white buck, "I wish the buck. horns and all, were in the King's belly." On consulting the record, it will be found that he merely wished the buck, horns and all, in the belly of the man who had counselled the King to kill the buck : but it was adjudged that this was a distinction without a difference, insomuch as the King was his own counsellor on the occasion. These, remarks Bluckstone, were esteemed hard cases, and it gradually came to be thought that, nothing being more ambiguous and equivocal than words, it was unreasonable to make them amount to treason, and accordingly, in 4 Car. I., on a reference to all the judges, concerning some very atrocious words spoken by one Pyne, they certified to the King "that though the words were as wicked as might be, yet they were no treason, for, unless it be by some particular statute, no words will be treason." By a parity of reasoning. no words unconnected with Acts or otier evidence will be felony unless it be by some particular statute. But by the 36th of George 1: I., cap. 7, it was enacted that any one using any words or sentences to excite the people to hatred or contempt of the King or of the Government and Constitution of this realm should incur the punish. of a high misdemeanour. This enactment was repealed by the 11th and 12th of Victoria, cap. 12, which provides that if any person whatsoever shall compass, imagine. invent, devise, or intend to deprive or depose Her Majesty, or to lavy war against her or to move or stir any foreigner or stranger with force to i vade her dominions. and such compassing, imaginations, inventions, devices, or intentions, or any of them, shall express, utter, or declare by publishing any printing or writing, or by open and advised speaking, or by any overt act or deed, every person so offending shall be guilty of felony,

THE PERFECTION OF PREPARED COCOA.

Sole Proprietors, TAYLOR BROTHERS,

THE COCOA (or CACAO) of MARAVILLA is the true Theobuoms of Linnaus. Cocos is indigenous to South America, or which Maraylina is favoured portion. Taylon Bao hans having secured the exchaire supply of this unrivalled Cocoa, the author of Olive Varcoe, commences the New Nolume. Well edited, printed on so underlied o good paper, we have 80 quarto pages, or it has not only accured the preference of homeopaths and cocan drinkers generally, but many who had popularity of the Family Herald" is exhitherto not found any preparation to suit them, have, after one trial, adopted the Maravilla Cocoa as writing, these facts give it a claim to be their constant beverage for breakfast, luncheon, &c.

"A SUCCESS UNPRECEDENTED." See following Extract from the Globe of May 14, 1868. "Various importers and Manufacturers have attempted to attain a reputation for their prepared Cocoas, but we doubt whether any thorough success had been achieved until Messrs Taylor Brothers discovered the extraordinary qualities of Maravillar Cocca. Adapting their perfect system of preparation to this finest of all species of the Thedbroma, they have produced an article which supersedes every other Cocca in the market. Entire solubility, a A Paper containing the News, the principal Leaders delicate aroma, and a rare concentration of the purest, a wall-disested Summary, and all interesting matter elements of nutrition, distinguish, the Maravilla from the Times, and is thus rendered available in a Cocca above all others. For Homocopaths and cheap form, for persons residing abroad or in the invalida we could not recommend a more agreeable or valuable beverage.

Sold in packets only by all Grocers, of whom also may be had Taylor Brothers' Original HOMOSOPATHIC COCOA and SOLUBLE CHOCOLATE. Steam Mills-Brick Lane, London.

The author in his Preface says :- "The tables in Chap. VII., for estimating prices, measurement of goods, exchanges, &c. have been selected from those constantly in use among the foreign merchants in China. Those for calculating the prices of tea in dollars or pence have been copied from the more extended tables, by the kind permission of the author, P. Loureiro, Esq. The last section of the same chapter on "Move-ments in Bullion," has been prepared and furnished for the Guide by Patrick R. Harper, Esq., of the Commercial Bank of India at Hongkong, who has had much ex-perience in the exchanges and movements of the precious metals in Eastern Asia.

"The Appendix of Sailing Directions has been reprinted, from the China Pilot." With short interruptions, the coasts from Singapore to Hakodadi are all described in is pand for the Chinese coasts, the Directions have been improved by the insertion of the Chinese characters for the names of all places that could be ascertained."
